

HEALTH

- POLICY STATEMENT -

The New York State Grange is taking an active role to raise awareness of problems in the health care field, especially the unique needs of the rural community. We, as an organization, should actively work with other rural agencies and organizations to make everyone aware of these problems and work to help find possible solutions and to include telemedicine and telehealth.

Ever-rising health care costs mean that more people are unable to afford adequate health care for themselves and their families. Experience has shown that some government-sponsored and administered programs have not been effective.

The Grange will continue to work for a compromise on health care reform issues, one that will encourage the continuation of freedom to choose doctors and the facilities we wish to use. We also need to be a strong advocate for rural areas so that their special needs are not neglected by those who shape our policies.

We must continue to be an active participant in all health care reform debates. Areas which continue to need our attention are the cost of prescription medications and the rising availability of counterfeit medication, long-term care and catastrophic illness insurance coverage, veterans' medical benefits, the protection of personal assets and financial savings to pay for long-term care and Medicare reforms.

Medicaid is another government program which consumes a large share of taxpayer money. An effort must be made to contain the cost of the Medicaid program. Emphasis should be placed on preventive or "well-care" service rather than illness or "need care" service.

Young people are our most valuable asset and the future of the Grange. We must support measures to protect the health and well-being of our country's youth.

We advocate increased awareness and education about substance abuse issues at the community and state levels.
